Doane Family Reunion Planned for August

The registration flyer for the 48th biennial reunion has been sent out, and if you have not received your copy, please contact Joyce Jeffries at Doane College (jsjeffries@doane.edu), or me (kblairh@aol.com), and we will mail you one. The reunion will be held Aug. 11-17, 2002, at George School, Bucks County, Newtown, Pa.

Note on the flyer that the phone number for Colonial Woods Family Camping Resort was omitted—1-800-887-2267. Be sure to tell them you want to be near lot C40. If you plan to camp on George School property, remember there are no hookups. You pay the regular George School fee and may use the school's facilities. Also, if you plan to take either the Doan Outlaw Tour or Philadelphia Tour, do not sign up on the line provided for lunch at George School on those days.

Another reminder: those choosing to stay off campus MUST pay the non-boarding fee of $130 for adults and $65 for children (age 13 and under). You may not pay for meals only.

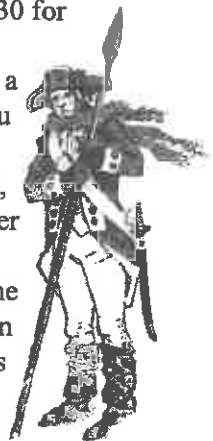

If you are driving to the reunion and have extra room, (whether staying at George School or a motel), please bring electric fan(s) and single bed blankets. Please label them with your name and you will get them back before leaving on Saturday. We want to be prepared for heat or cold.

A special thank you to Joyce Jeffries, and our friends at Doane College, who set up, edited, printed, labeled, and mailed out the registration flyer. Once you do something like this, you have a better appreciation for all the people and work involved.

I want to thank Virgil Doan (UT) for all the help he has given me in continuing the typing of the files while I have been working on the reunion. He has done a great job, and will be at the reunion helping me with indexes and files. Be sure to bring your updated papers, AND please put the numbers from the Doane books on those papers to aid us in placing you.

If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact me. I look forward to seeing all of you in August.

Kay Blair Hartman,
DFA Historian and 2002 Reunion Chair

Daniel Doan Trail

Doane family members who live in, or will be visiting, New Hampshire, might like to hike the Daniel Doan Trail up Smarts Mountain. In 1993, the Dartmouth Outing Club named this trail after the legendary woodsman "in recognition of Daniel Doan's efforts to stimulate interest in hiking and the out-of-doors."

Daniel Doan is the author of two classic hiking books: 50 Hikes in the White Mountains and 50 More Hikes in New Hampshire. His other work includes a memoir: Our Last Backpack; a history of New Hampshire's north country; Indian Stream Republic: Settling a New England Frontier, 1784-1842; a book of exercises, Dan Doan's Fitness Program for Hikers and Cross-Country Skiers; and two novels, The Crystal Years and Amos Jackson.

After his death in 1993, his daughter, novelist Ruth Doan MacDougall, assumed authorship of the hiking books.

A description of the Daniel Doan Trail can be found in 50 Hikes in the White Mountains, Hike #15, Smarts Mountain. The trailhead is in Oxford, and the hike is six miles round trip, which will take about four and a half hours, not counting lunch and exploration of the fire tower on the 3,238 foot summit.

Carroll F. Doane, map company executive; Harwich native; avid golfer

The Cape Cod Times, Friday, Jan. 25, 2002

Fort Myers, Fla. – Carroll F. Doane, 96, a resident of Fort Myers, and formerly of Harwich, died Sunday, Jan. 20. He was husband of the late Rada Robertson and the late Jane Bell Walker. Born and raised in Harwich, he graduated valedictorian of his class at Harwich High School. Doane was a descendant of Deacon John Doane and William Nickerson. He loved to visit his grandfather who lived across the road from Elmer Crowell in East Harwich and was fascinated watching him carve his decoys. After graduation, Doane began a career with Sanborn Map Co., in Pelham, N.Y., where he worked for 47 years, beginning as a mapmaker and retiring as president of the company.

In the mid-1960s, he appeared on the television show "To Tell the Truth," jokingly referred to as a streetwalker because of the extensive walking his job required in making maps all over the country. Doane pioneered an innovation in mapmaking, the "buying power map," which showed in various colors the economic demographics of different areas so advertisers could target their marketing dollars more efficiently. An enthusiastic golfer, he was a former member of Siwanoy Country Club in Bronxville, a former member of Southern Seniors, and the oldest member of the Landings Golf Club, where he played until a year ago. Over the years, he had five holes-in-one, the last two in his 70s and 80s. He loved hunting and fishing in his earlier years, was a talented artist who worked in watercolors and pastels, and enjoyed telling stories about growing up on the Cape. An avid sports fan, he never gave up hope the Red Sox would win another World Series. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club in Fort Myers, and delivered Meals on Wheels well into his 90s.

Doane is survived by a daughter-in-law, Evelyn Doane of Chatham; two stepchildren, Judy McNaughton and John Walker of Canada; two grandchildren; a great-grandson; and seven step-grandchildren. He was also the father of the late David Robertson Doane. Burial services were private. Memorial donations may be made to St. Christopher's Church, Main Street, Chatham, MA 02633.

Nancy W. Doane Estate Benefits Doane College

by Joyce Colleen Jeffries, Doane College director of media relations

Doane College, Crete, Neb., received $443,170 from the estate of Nancy W. Doane, Ph.D., Sun City, Ariz., who died June 7, 2001. A member of the Doane Family Association of America, she was also a longtime supporter of the college.

One-third of Doane's estate was designated for the college's Zenon C.R. Hansen Leadership Program, and the remaining two-thirds established an endowed fund to support faculty salaries. Previous monetary gifts were earmarked for the college's annual Doane Fund and toward construction costs of the Lied Science and Mathematics Building.

Doane, born in Galena, Kan., in 1914, was the daughter of Jess and Martha Walthall. She had two brothers, Jess and Neal, and a sister, Margorie.

Doane held bachelor's and master's degrees in education from Kansas State College, Pittsburg, and a doctoral degree in philosophy from Northwestern University, Chicago. She taught elementary school in Valley Falls, Kan., and Joplin, Mo. Doane taught English literature at Monticello College, Alton, Ill., then was a college administrator at Beloit College, Beloit, Wis.

Doane was a member of Eastern Star, PEO, and Phi Beta Kappa honorary academic fraternity. She was a member of Faith Presbyterian Chapel, Sun City.

In 1955, Doane married D. Howard Doane, founder of Doane Agricultural Service in St. Louis. He also founded the national Farmhouse fraternity and served as Under Secretary of Agriculture during the Herbert Hoover administration.

A memorial service was held for Doane, June 13 at Faith Presbyterian Chapel. Her ashes were spread on her husband's grave at Mt. Hope Cemetery, Joplin, Mo.

Doane Family Reunion Reminders

Dave's Limousine Service - (215) 288-1000
A-1 Limousine Service - (215) 741-4747
Jack Hager - (215) 766-8690

Fans and Blankets Needed!

If you are driving to George School, the reunion committee asks that you please bring portable fans and blankets to be used by those staying in residence halls. Please label the items with your name, and they will be returned to you at the end of the reunion.

Registration Form Reminder:

Please check the reunion registration flyer carefully as you fill out the meal and lodging section. If you are staying at George School, and paying the weekly boarding fee, you must still mark the number of meals for each meal, each day. George School needs an exact count of those eating each day. Also, if you are not staying on campus, YOU MUST pay the non-boarding fee, and mark individual meals as well. Part of the non-boarding fee defrays rental costs of the auditorium, student lounge, and other campus facilities.

Le May Doan Golden Again

- Canadian wins her second straight Olympic 500-meter speedskating title

The Associated Press, The Lincoln Journal Star,
Feb. 14, 2002

Canada's Catriona Le May Doan won her second straight Olympic 500-meter speedskating title on Thursday night, putting her within one gold medal of matching Bonnie Blair.

Le May Doan has no plans to pursue Blair's record, saying she'll likely retire after next season.

"This is over and above anything I ever dreamed of," the 31-year-old Canadian said. "You get to the point where you want to do other things."

Le May Doan crossed the line in 37.45 seconds, giving her an aggregate time in the two-day event of 1:14.75 seconds.

She easily defeated a pair of Germans. Monique Garbrecht-Enfeldt (1:14.94) won silver and Sabine Volker (1:15.19) took the bronze.

Le May Doan becomes just the second woman to win two straight 500s. Blair won three in a row in 1988, '92, and '94.

Surprisingly, Le May Doan failed to break her own world record of 37.22, even though she finished on the more favorable outer lane. She did leave with a pair of Olympic records: 37.30, set Wednesday, and a two-day total that eclipsed her mark of 1:16.60 from four years ago.

This was the second straight event in which the previous world record stood up. So much for those predictions that all 10 marks would fall on the fast ice of the Utah Olympic Oval.

Le May Doan was an overwhelming favorite in the 500. She arrived at Salt Lake City having won 18 of her last 19 races, including all six World Cup events this year.

Garbrecht-Enfeldt, skating in the final pair with Le May Doan, clinched second place with a run of 37.60. She picked up her second Olympic medal 10 years after the first, having took bronze in the 1,000 at Albertville. She finally claimed a 500 medal after finishing sixth in 1994 and eighth four years ago.

Volker earned her first Olympic medal and will be one of the top contenders in the 1,000, along with Le May Doan.

Le May Doan took a victory lap lugging a red-and-white Canadian flag, with a small banner attached to it representing her home province of Saskatchewan. On the backstretch, husband Bart Doan – rodeo cowboy and icemaker at the Calgary Olympic Oval – gave her his cowboy hat.

The top two finishers from the first day held their position, but Andrea Nuyt of the Netherlands dropped from third to fourth after a slight slip on the final turn, causing her left hand to scrape the ice.

Volker moved up from fifth to third, beating Nuyt by 0.18 seconds. The Americans were not a factor. Chris Witty, still weak after a bout with mononucleosis, was 14th out of 31 skaters with a time of 1:16.73. The 500 is not her best event, but she wanted to use it as a warmup for Sunday's 1,000.

Doane Family Information Requested

Dear Kay [Blair Hartman],

Hello, my name is Doreen Doan Amenta. I have a beautiful Childe Hassam painting. Childe is the husband of Kathleen Maud Doane Hassam, p. 235, in Doane Volume II. The painting has been passed down through generations to me, originating with Eleazer Doan and Annie Magill Doan. The subjects in the painting are my great-great grandmother, Annie Magill Doan, p. 366, and my great-grandfather, Calvin B. Doan, p. 453. I believe the painting was done in the late 1880s at a family reunion. I know reunions took place starting in 1868. Would you have a record of Doane family reunion dates, locations and addresses that took place in the 1880s? Also, do you know of any other Doane family members who Childe Hassam did paintings for? Any information you could provide would be very helpful. Thank you for your time, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

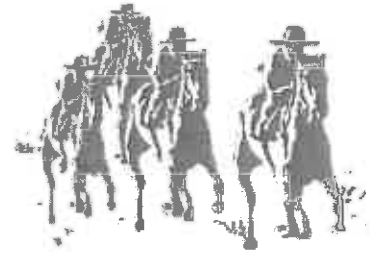

Doreen Doan Amenta

Doane College Home to Naval Anchor

Doane College, Crete, Neb., became home to a ship's anchor in March. It came from a naval shipyard in Beaumont, Texas. The anchor is the focal point of Leadership Plaza, designed to commemorate the Navy V-12/V-5 officer-training program that was quartered at the college during World War II. More than 700 men went through officer training. The plaza also contains four flagpoles and a plaque describing the history of the college's V-12/V-5 program. The Plaza is located southeast of Hansen Hall, and is part of the landscape for a new east entrance to campus. A formal dedication of Leadership Plaza will take place in May. Employees of Sampson Construction, Lincoln, are shown placing the anchor and 75-foot chain.
